River Notes.

The steamer Washington has taken her place on the Norfolk and Washington route relieving the Norfolk, which goes into drydock to be cleaned and painted.

The large steam launch Runaway, owned by Mr. Joseph Moore, of this city, went into service Monday on a route between this port and the navy yard in Washington for the purpose of carrying the mechanics employed in the yard and living here to and from their work. Going up the Eastern branch to the navy yard she ran ashore on the flats near Buzzard's Point, and, in spite of the efforts of her engine and those aboard, she remained aground. As a consequence the men were unable to reach the navy yard in time for work, and they had to lose a half day. The Runaway remained aground until high water Monday evening, when she succeeded in working off the bar and returned to this city and resumed her trips yesterday.

The schooner Sidonia Curley is loading salt from the Italian barkentine Antonio D'Ally at W. A. Smoot & Co.'s wharf. Her cargo will be taken to the lower fishing shore.

The tide made high last night and this morning. The surface of the river is covered with sticks, twigs, etc., which have been brought from the upper river. Four colored men, named respectively Lomax, Dandley, Jones and Jackson, were captured last night by the Washington patrol boat and carried to this city. They were surprised while fishing between this city and Washington.

Committee Meeting.

The committee on general laws met last night and informally discussed the matter of rearranging the wards of the city to conform to the general law. No definite action was taken.

Episcopal High School.

The following students of the Episcopal High School, near this city were successful in all their March examinations: Walter W. Alexander, of West Virginia; John M. Blackford, of Fairfax county; Randolph F. Blackford, of Fairfax county; S. Miller Gallaher, of Maryland; Edwin H. W. Harlan, of Maryland; Howard H. Hicks, of Texas; Richard P. Johnson, of Maryland; H. Augustine Latane, of Westmoreland county; William J. Mann, jr., of Fauquier county; John Y. McDonald, of West Virginia; John M. Minton, jr., of New York; Talbot T. Pendleton, of West Virginia; W. Armistead Pendleton, jr., of Fairfax county; William S. A. Pott, of Shanghai; James S. Rust, of Alexandria county; A. Rives Seamon, of Texas; Wm. Henry Seamon, jr., of Texas; C. Williams Smoot, of Fairfax county; Walter H. Taylor, of Norfolk; William R. Trigg, of Richmond; Lewis W. Whittle, of Staunton; Robert L. Whittle, of Petersburg; Richard P. Williams, jr., of Washington, D. C.

A Chapter of Accidents.

There were five railroad accidents in and near this city Monday night and yesterday, all of which were mentioned in yesterday's Gazette. A colored man was run over and killed by a Southern train on the Washington-Southern track in front of the Virginia Glass Works, a locomotive fell through a trestle on another engine near Cameron run bridge, a carriage was struck by a locomotive at King and Henry streets, a collision between a wagon and an electric train occurred at Cameron and Alfred streets, and the cylinder head of an engine blew out near the east end of the tunnel. During the day there was a narrow escape from a sixth accident near the intersection of King and Royal streets when an electric train narrowly escaped collision with a wagon. The accident was narrowly averted by the prompt action of the motorman.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning:

John Wesley, colored, arrested by Officers Ferguson and Smith charged with jumping on an electric train while in motion, was fined $5. The darkey boarded the train at King and Pitt streets against the protest of one of the crew and when they proceeded to take him in custody he endeavored to assault the trolleyman.

Lee Drown, a white youth, arrested by Officer Nicholson charged with stealing a wagon from Lawrence Gardner, was dismissed with an admonition, as the charge had been withdrawn.

James Wilson, arrested by Officer Henderson for vagrancy, was dismissed upon a promise to leave the city immediately. Wilson had been begging on the streets. He said he was from Norfolk and had been a sailor.

Preparing to the Season.

Justice Caton this morning made preparations for the trial of cases in the Police Court during fishing season. In recent years the cutting of fish is in progress at Fishtown members of the colored element who are employed in this occupation quit work to witness police trials. They appear in the court room with scales on their clothing and the effluvia of the fish wharf, upon their persons. Often the smell is unbearable, especially when the space without the bar is crowded and the temperature high. Justice Caton gave orders that only the plaintiffs, defendants and witnesses be admitted, and that the latter class be made to occupy the first row of benches in the extreme western portion of the room and to vacate the building as soon as they have given their testimony.

Funerals.

The funeral of the late Miss Margaret Wilson took place from her home yesterday evening. The services were conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips, of St. Paul's Church. The pallbearers were Messrs. James S. Douglass, jr., William G. Leadbeater, Orlando H. Kirk, French A. Simpson, Marjorie Price and Mark L. Price, jr., all young men who in their youth were scholars of the deceased. The interment was in the family lot in Christ Church cemetery, and was private.

The remains of Eugene D. Cable who died in Washington on Monday will be brought to this city tomorrow for interment.

Gen. Payne's Funeral.

As heretofore stated in the Gazette the remains of General W. H. Payne, who died in Washington yesterday, will be taken to Warrenton, the general's old home, on Thursday morning. The Southern Railway, for many years, has placed two cars at the disposal of the family for the journey. The train will leave Washington at 11:15 a. m., stopping here, and the funeral will occur at 3 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Laird, of the Episcopal Church of Warrenton. A number of distinguished Virginians will act as honorary pallbearers.

Oyster Laws.

State Senator Machen returned today from Annapolis where he went to attend a meeting of the joint Maryland and Virginia legislative committees in reference to the oyster laws of the two States. Mr. M. O. Green, of Fauquier county, was made chairman of the joint committee and a sub-committee was appointed to draft suitable laws on the subject to be presented at the present session of the Maryland legislature. The members of the committee were handsomely entertained in Annapolis last night.

The Fishery.

A few jags of rock, bass and perch continue to arrive at Fishtown, but there is no visible activity in that quarter yet. Reports from the lower river are by no means encouraging. The water is muddy, the tides are making high, and the river being filled with sticks, fragments of bark and trash, gilling and seinehauling are rendered difficult. Numbers of shad are in the bay, and a few mild and clear days will bring them into the river.

Monument Unveiling.

The people of Fairfax are making extensive arrangements for the unveiling of the monument to the late General John Quincy Marr, the first Confederate soldier killed during the civil war. The monument is to be an imposing one, and a large crowd is expected to be present at the unveiling. Among those who will make addresses on the occasion are Governor Montague and Attorney General Anderson.
